WANT LESS POLES ON TOWN STREETS

Town Council Insists that Companies Operating in Gettysburg Must Combine to Reduce Number of Poles on Streets.

That the number of poles on the streets of Gettysburg must be reduced through the co-operation of the two telephone companies and the Gettysburg Light Company was the sentiment of the town council at a special meeting on Wednesday evening.

The meeting was held in response to a request of R. B. Garrison, of the Bell Telephone Company who appeared before the council to ask for permission to place twenty three new poles, to ask for replacing some others and to confer with council regarding the removal of the poles from the roadway in the Square to the curb. This last matter was the subject for considerable argument in town some days ago.

Mr. Garrison stated that the bringing of the gang of men here on the day in question and their inability to do any work resulted in a loss of about $100 to the company and that they did not desire to repeat the experience. Mr. Codori, chairman of the highway committee, stated that, with regard to these poles and the placing of new ones, he desired councilmanic action so that he would not have to bear the brunt of public censure should the proposed work of the Bell Company meet with the disapproval of the people of town.

The ordinance under which the Bell company is working allows them, it is said, to place as many poles as necessary for properly conducting their business, the poles to be placed under the direction of the highway committee. Mr. Garrison stated that it was not necessary to ask permission from council but that he did it out of courtesy and because Mr. Codori refused without the sanction of the other members to designate where the new poles should be placed.

The plan, which the town council would like to have the two telephone companies and the local light company use would be a working agreement by which they could use each others' poles and thus do away with a number of unnecessary poles which were declared at Wednesday evening's meeting to be an eyesore to the community and an impediment to traffic.

Mr. Turner of the Gettysburg Light Company, told council that the Bell company had been working in this manner with the light company for eight years under no signed agreement, that under the agreement which the Bell company would like to operate with the light company the latter would get decidedly the worse end of the bargain and in this way lessen the value of the property should it come before a possible buyer.

Council informed both Mr. Turner and Mr. Garrison, after some argument between the two representatives, that this affair did not enter into the question so far as council was concerned, that it was a matter for the companies to settle and that the one thing council desired was less poles. Both the companies were instructed to reach an agreement if possible and the United Telephone Company—officially known as the Cumberland Valley—is also to be notified to co-operate with the Gettysburg Light Company to the same end. The Bell company will make no effort to have its wires and those of the United company on the same poles.

Mr. Garrison, speaking for the Bell company, stated, that next week a large force of men will be put into the town to secure new business and that it is their confident belief that this will be secured. As a result they asked for permission to place twenty three new poles in order to carry a large number of wires near the center of town. Permission was granted to place a pole between 46 and 48 Chambersburg street and for the laying of an underground conduit between this place and the company's exchange on the opposite side of the street. This will do away with the heavy cable over the roadway.

Mr. Butt stated that he thought the Bell company should first secure the business before placing new poles to accommodate it and with the exception of the one pole and the underground conduit the whole matter was held over to a regular meeting on Tuesday November 5.

3960 MEMBERS ARE REPORTED

One Hundred and Two Societies are Represented in Convention Meeting in St. James Lutheran Church. Good Reports.

At the thirty-first annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Lutheran West Pennsylvania Synod, now in session in St. James church, it was reported that the membership had reached 3960 and that there are 102 separate organizations, divided as follows: 61 women's societies, 20 young people's societies, 21 mission bands.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Henry, of Shippensburg, made at this morning's session, shows that the societies contributed during the past year $6100 for various purposes which is considered remarkable in view of the fact that there was no special or unusual effort to raise funds. The per capita contributions were well on toward the $2.00 mark.

The reports of the various officers and department secretaries were all of a most encouraging nature and the delegates were greatly pleased with the showing made.

On account of the illness of Mrs. F. C. Karper, of Chambersburg, the president of the society, the meetings are in charge of Mrs. L. C. Bell, of York, the first vice president. The first session on Wednesday evening was well attended. There was music by a men's chorus of fourteen voices. The greetings were extended by Mrs. J. B. Baker and the response was made by Mrs. Margery Lilly, of Mechanicsburg. Mrs. Bell read letters from the president and the principal address was made by Dr. L. B. Wolf, of the Board of Foreign Missions.

This morning in addition to hearing reports indicating advance along all lines the convention was addressed by Mrs. J. W. Richard who urged attendance on the Lutheran Summer Assembly at Gettysburg next year.

EGGS AND BUTTER BY MAIL

The easiest and cheapest way to get fresh country eggs and butter after January 1 next, will be to order them direct from some rural route farmer and have him mail them to you by the new parcel post. But it is not only eggs and butter that will go by mail under the new parcels post. If you want a jar of preserves, or honey, or a pair of chickens, or anything else, that weighs no more than eleven pounds, it may go by parcels post.

A local example of the need or parcels post was shown here last week when the college authorities sent a package of examination papers to Oxford University, England for less than one third the cost of sending the same by mail to our own New Oxford, ten miles away. The rate to England was 21 cents, to New Oxford 72 cents.

The examination papers in question were from the students at Gettysburg College who are competing in the Rhoades scholarship tests.

QUARANTINE LIFTED

The quarantine for glanders which had been placed on the stock of R. D. Sheely at the Bushman farm early this month was lifted following a compliance with the requirements of the State Livestock Sanitary Board. One horse which had been sick with glanders was buried in time, following the method prescribed by the state and the other horses were subjected to three tests, two of which were made by Dr. E. D. Hudson, of this place and the third by Dr. K. F. Meyer, director of the state livestock sanitary laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania. The remainder of the stock has been pronounced free from the disease.

FUNERAL

The funeral services of John A. Donaldson were held at his late home this, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. W. K. Fleck, officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery, Gettysburg.

MAKE ROOM FOR COUNTY PRODUCTS

Merchants Set Aside Space for Farmers' Day Exhibits. Saur Kraut already on Display. Final Arrangements.

Merchants and other business people of the town who have announced their premiums for Farmers' Day are now preparing spaces for the exhibits and there has been a general clearance to make room for the county's products.

Where the display windows are large enough to accommodate the fruits, vegetables, pies, cakes or whatever else is to be shown they are being used but these are rather few and far between with the result that long benches and tables will be brought into play at most places. A number of the business people are showing the premiums as an additional incentive to bringing in farm products.

These arrangements are being made early for it is thought that some of the exhibitors will bring in their displays on Friday and everything must be in readiness for them. All the exhibits must be on hand not later than nine o'clock Saturday morning to render their owners eligible to receive the premiums.

The first entry was brought in this afternoon in the shape of a jar of sauer kraut and was at once displayed.

The various business houses are receiving from the Farmers' Day management the exhibit duplicate coupons. Each exhibit is labeled with one of these and the corresponding number given to the owner. Along with this stub each entrant receives for each article exhibited a ticket good at either of the two motion picture theatres in town, which will give free shows between one and two o'clock to those holding tickets.

The enthusiasm which has marked preparations in town for the entertainment of our county friends and the interest which the people of the county are taking in the affair insure its success. Favorable weather will help a lot and indications now point to a clear day.

Two more premiums have been announced. The Battlefield Photo Company will give a dozen of their best cabinet photographs for the finest head of colliflower exhibited in the display window of Miss Alice Epley's millinery shop.

J. O. Blocher will give half a ton of coal to the party bringing in the best pair of ducks in a display coop.

MYERS GOES WITH ATHLETICS

"Jim" Myers, the York Springs pitcher, went to Philadelphia on Tuesday and after a trial at Shibe Park signed up for next season with the Athletics. Myers was taken to the Quaker City by a Mack scout who came to York Springs on Monday for him. Arriving at Philadelphia they trotted out to the Athletic stronghold where Ira Thomas put the York Springs boy through a rigorous test assisted by Connie Mack. Both Mack and Thomas seemed well pleased with the big fellow and the former then secured his signature for a contract next season. Myers will leave with the Athletics for Jacksonville next spring.

MISS SADIE J. BLACK

Miss Sadie J. Black, formerly of this county, died suddenly at Red Oak, Iowa, on October 17. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Isaac Stockslager, of the same place.

MADE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

While the guests at the Eckert-Clutz wedding, well armed with rice, confetti and other missiles, were waiting to speed the bridal couple on their honeymoon, Wednesday afternoon, the newlyweds stole out of the rear door of the house and mounted an old spring wagon which was in waiting. Taking the lines in hand the groom had the horse well under way before the guests discovered their escape. The "fugitives" drove to West Confederate avenue where J. Calvin Hartman was awaiting them in his automobile. The team was abandoned and the second method of travel adopted. From Gettysburg they went to Dillsburg where a third means of "locomotion" was used, the trolley being brought into play to take the bride and groom to Harrisburg from where their journey south lay by railroad.

STATE INSPECTION

During this week officers of the state department of health will make a sanitary inspection of more than 5,000 school houses in 656 townships throughout the commonwealth which declined medical inspection. Commissioner of Health Dixon has ordered this work done to insure a report upon the sanitary conditions surrounding the school children in every second class township in the state.

The water supply, a most important point, is to be given attention—if from a well, its location and the possibilities of contamination from surface drainage or adjacent cesspools, or stables, must be noted.

McKEESPORT BUSINESS MEN HERE

The boosters' train of the McKeesport Chamber of Commerce arrived here early this afternoon. The party numbered about one hundred and after taking dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg they spent several hours on the battlefield. They were met by a committee from the local Board of Trade. Souvenirs advertising McKeesport's industries were distributed. The train was made up of Pullmans and was the first through train to be run by the Western Maryland from Pittsburgh to Baltimore.

DIAZ CAPTURED; REVOLUTION ENDS

The Mexican Federals Capture Vera Cruz

DISARM ALL THE REBELS

New Revolt Ends With Sanguinary Battle Outside City, in Which There Were Few Casualties.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 24.—Felix Diaz, with the whole of his staff, was captured and all of the rebels were disarmed. The casualties were insignificant.

Thus ended the rebellion headed by the nephew of the deposed president of the republic, who a few days ago took the city of Vera Cruz without firing a shot.

The entire army of General Diaz, composed of 2500 men, was disarmed by the victorious federals.

The battle raged for three hours before the government forces under General Beltran forced the insurgents to surrender.

The rebels were driven back into the city from the suburbs and made their last stand in the barracks, which were taken by storm.

General Diaz surrendered after General Beltran's troops had brought cannon to bear on the barracks. The rebels were completely trapped and Diaz notified the federal commander that he would yield in order to avert great loss of life.

This defeat is expected finally to end the attempt of Felix Diaz, the nephew of former President Porfirio Diaz, to depose President Madero and make himself head of the country.

Washington Hears News of Attack.
Washington, Oct. 24.—"Federals commenced attack on city at 6:30 a. m."

This laconic wireless message, received at the state department from Commander Charles F. Hughes, of the cruiser Des Moines, was the first intimation that the expected battle of Vera Cruz between the Mexican federals under General Beltran and the revolutionists under General Diaz had been begun.

The commander of the Des Moines informed the department that the rebels, warned of the federal's intention to attack, were prepared for the engagement and went into the battle confident of victory.

He added that the foreigners in Vera Cruz were entirely safe, the consular corps having established a neutral zone for Americans and other foreigners and non-combatants.

The long-heralded battle was begun after many hours of negotiations between General Diaz, self-proclaimed provisional president, and the federal commander. Emissaries of Diaz tried to persuade General Beltran to desert the Madero cause and enlist under his own banner. Beltran is said to have been offered the post of minister of war, but he declined.

During the night the little army of General Beltran was joined by those of General Zeosaya and General Vega from Santa Fe. The entrenched position of the rebel troops was attacked from three sides at the same time.

KAISER AND MINE DISASTERS

Contemplates Compound to Show Fire Damp Danger.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—The German emperor is giving his close personal attention to the prevention of mine disasters and hopes by means of chemistry to find a practicable safety device.

In a speech delivered at the Chemical Institute of the Emperor William Scientific Foundation, he explained that his idea contemplated a harmless chemical compound, a change in which would warn miners of the danger of fire damp.

The emperor was said to have applied to the technical schools of Germany for suggestions in this direction after the mine disaster at Brechum on Aug. 8, when 103 men were killed. He has now repeated his request to the leading German scientists.

T. R. GAINING STRENGTH

Improvement So Great He Was Allowed to Receive Callers.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 24.—The improvement shown by Colonel Roosevelt after two days of complete rest in the quiet of his own home was most reassuring.

So much has Mr. Roosevelt strengthened that the strict injunction that he must see no one was modified to the extent of permitting him to have a short chat with Dr. Lyman Abbott and George W. Perkins.

Dr. Abbott was the first visitor out of the family admitted to the patient's sick room since his return. He was accompanied by his two sons Lawrence and Ernest Abbott.

Boasts Forty-six Wives.
Johannesburg, Oct. 24.—The champion polygamist of the British empire has been discovered among the Bantu tribesmen of the Transvaal, according to returns from the census office. He has forty-six wives and is thirty-five years of age. His next nearest competitor in the matrimonial stakes only boasts of twenty-eight wives.

DOMINICAN REBELS

READY TO ATTACK

They Are Advancing Upon Puerto Plata.

Washington, Oct. 24.—That the revolution phase of the tangled situation in the Dominican republic is growing more menacing was indicated here, when the state department received dispatches from Puerto Plata, stating that the Dominican rebels were advancing upon that city.

An attack upon that place is expected at any moment. The indications are that the rebels will succeed in defeating the government forces.

It is probable that the gunboat Wheeling, which is now at Santo Domingo City, together with the Prairie, which has 750 marines on board, will steam across to Puerto Plata to insure the protection of American interests.

Anti-American feeling in Puerto Plata is said to be strong. The negotiations conducted by the American special commissioners, W. T. S. Doyle, of the state department, and Brigadier General McIntyre, of the bureau of insular affairs, are said to have aroused resentment among the Dominican officials at Puerto Plata.

It is understood that the American commissioners are insisting that the Dominican government eliminate the officials responsible for maladministration of the public funds in various parts of the republic and other forms of dishonesty.

BOYS SHOOT UP A TOWN

Two Chicago Lads Did the Wild West Stunt in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 24.—Two Chicago youths told an unusual story in the children's court here.

The boys, Joe Zimba, fourteen years old, and Bruno Swentowski, fifteen years old, were arrested at Mesquite Tex., where, mounted on horses and armed with revolvers, they were giving their best exhibition of shooting up a small town.

In court they said they had started their career last month on $800 which they stole from a store on Sacramento street in Chicago. They said the store was owned by the mother of Elmer McMillan. They said they took a small safe from the store and rifled it in a railroad yard.

HOPES OF HEIR GONE

Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands Is Ill.

The Hague, Netherlands, Oct. 24.—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands has been suffering for several days from a slight indisposition.

This, according to an official bulletin signed by the court physician, tends to dispel the hope which he majesty entertained of the birth of a male heir to the throne. The queen has one child, a daughter.

The bulletin adds that the condition of the queen is satisfactory.

Miser George's $20,000.
Detroit, Oct. 24.—Adam George, who toiled for years on a little piece of land near here and lived in a tumble down shanty, died two weeks ago from the effects of starvation. Search of the shack disclosed that the miser was worth $20,000. Over $2400 in cash was found hidden about the shanty.

Seven Drown When Ship Sinks.
Corpus Christi, Tex., Oct. 24.—The tramp steamship Nicaragua, which sailed from Tampico, Mex., Oct. 2, for Port Arthur, Tex., was caught in a storm Oct. 16 and sunk off Padre Island, sixty miles south of Corpus Christi. Captain E. C. Hevera and six of the crew were drowned.

BECKER CASE GOES TO JURY

Accused Police Lieutenant Will Soon Know Fate.

ATTORNEY PLEADS FRAME UP

The Prosecutor Declares Accused Policeman Was "Brains Behind Gunmen" in Killing of Gambler.

New York, Oct. 24.—The case of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, charged with the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, was given to the jury today. Justice Goff's charge was impartial. He explained the indictment and the law and closed by admonishing them to render a just verdict.

Becker heard himself characterized by John F. McIntyre, his chief counsel, as the victim of a conspiracy plotted by Jack Rose, "the hell of the assassins," and by Assistant District Attorney Moss as "the brains behind the gunmen, with a tremendous motive for murder." What emotions he may have felt were masked by perfect control of his features.

Mrs. Becker prayed during the first part of Mr. McIntyre's address, and afterward sat with her head bowed, weeping silently as her husband's defender, in an impassioned voice, took up the salient features of the case. As the day wore on she cheered up and took courage from the plea.

The defense centered its attack on the state's case almost wholly on Jack Rose's testimony, which Mr. McIntyre denounced as unworthy of belief, because "Jack Rose testified to save himself from the electric chair." He characterized the corroborating witnesses as "crooks and murderers;" "the state's case he summed up with a declaration that District Attorney Whitman, "fractured by ambition," had "fractured a prosecution framed up by crooks."

Mr. Moss warmly resented the implication that Mr. Whitman had any other motive than duty for seeking the conviction of Becker, and denounced "the vilification of counsel for the defense" as revealing the "desperate straits to which he has come."

Mr. Moss accused Mr. McIntyre of misrepresenting the evidence to the jury, impelling Becker's attorney to jump to his feet and shake his fist in the face of his opponent as he uttered an indignant denial.

The lawyers passed four hours each in summing up the evidence.

SIXTEEN SAILORS RESCUED

Life Savers Pled Breeches Buoy to Take Them From Stranded Ship.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 24.—The daring use of the breeches buoy in the teeth of a thirty-mile southeast gale enabled the members of four federal life saving crews to rescue sixteen sailors, the entire crew of the Italian bark Catrina, bound from Montevideo to New York.

The ship had been blown in among the shoals two miles off Barnegat Inlet, where she was discovered at daylight by her distress signals. The Catrina seems to be doomed. The hard lashing of the waves during the fifteen hours she had been held among the shoals has opened her seams, and the crew fears she will go to pieces in a short time.

BRYAN'S TRAIN KILLS BOY

Special Runs Down Lad at Townsend Crossing, Del.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 24.—While the special Pennsylvania railroad train carrying William J. Bryan from Philadelphia on a speaking tour of Delaware was speeding down the Delaware railroad it ran over and killed Theodore Lovegrove, a boy, at the Townsend Crossing, thirty miles below Wilmington.

The train was stopped and arrangements made for taking care of the body. The boy lived nearby. He is said to have been dodging another train when he ran in front of the Bryan special.

SEVEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Several Others Thought to Have Been Lost in Accident.

North Bay, Ont., Oct. 24.—The Energetic Explosive company's factory at Halesbury, near here, was blown to pieces.

The bodies of seven persons were identified, and it was thought that others had been killed and their bodies destroyed by the explosion. Several others were seriously injured. The property loss is heavy.

Aviator Falls to Death.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 24.—Louis Mitchell, president of the American Aviators' association, while flying at the exposition grounds, lost control of his machine at a height of 600 feet and was dashed to death. Mitchell was making a spiral glide when he lost control. Fully 7000 persons saw the tragedy.

Apple Cider Under Ban.
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 24.—Sweet apple cider, fresh from the press, has been banned by ordinance here. Vinegar for housewives is forbidden, too. The reason is somebody has been selling a "spiked" cider.
